Conference 2023 Delegate and Travel Information

Dear Conference delegates,

In preparation for our Annual Professional Conference 2023 and following our highly successful conference in Swindon last year, we are delighted to welcome you back. We are so grateful that you are supporting us by attending.

This short 'Delegate and Travel Information' document will, we hope, aid you in making arrangements when travelling to/from and attending Conference.

We recognise that Eastwood Hall is not very close to the centre of Nottingham, but it is an excellent venue for delegates and Trade supporters alike. The hotel is situated about 10 miles north-west of Nottingham's centre and mainline rail station. There is a branch rail stop (Erewash Valley Line) within Langley Mill, a taxi ride from the hotel. Alternatively, the hotel has ample free parking on-site as the hotel is only a mile or so north-east of the main A610 and less than 5 miles from the M1.

Enjoy the Conference and See You There!

Notes to Conference Delegates:

1. We are delighted that you are able to join us at this year's annual Conference.
2. Access to the main Meeting and Trade Exhibition areas is on Friday and Saturday only. Please do not 'pop round' to have a look during the evening of Thursday (if you are staying that extra night), as there is a great deal of setting-up to do and you will be in the way!
3. Please make sure that you take every opportunity to visit our amazing Trade stand area as often as you can during Friday (from 08:30 to 17:00) and Saturday (from 08:30 to 14:00) and make yourself known to our wonderful Trade reps, who are supporting us again this year.
4. Note that refreshments and lunches will be served within that Trade Exhibition area during Conference, so we expect you to mingle and meet.
5. The more you participate, the more you and others will benefit from Conference.
6. The current draft Programme for Conference, the general layout of Eastwood Hall complex and the Trade Exhibition are provided below.
7. Once you have checked into your hotel bedrooms, you will have access to the rooms more directly from the car parks at the rear, via external doors, using your electronic keycards.
8. On Saturday, please ensure that you have cleared and checked-out of your rooms before attending the Conference sessions, as anyone 'over-staying' the stipulated check-out time will have to pay the hotel directly for that extra time. OIA will not cover those costs, sorry.
9. If you have any issues, please find one of the lovely people wearing one of our snazzy new 'OIA-logoed' black T-shirts.

OIA Committee are exceptionally grateful to you for attending Conference and we hope you enjoy it and find it worthwhile.

Thank You!
